CHICAGO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1900.

PRICE, 5 CENTS

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Unless there is a serious reversal in the order of racing under the Jockey Club, the sport will open early in April, at Behnings, under the auspices of the Washington Jockey Club. The management has applied for dates from April 2 to April 14, inclusive, and the fixed events, due to close on February 6, include two handicaps, one to be run on the opening day and the other on the closing day. Both are for three-year-olds and upward. For the first event starters are required to pay $20 additional, and the club adds $700. The winner will also receive half of the subscription money and all of the starting money. The distance will be six furlongs.

The conditions for the second handicap are the same, except that the added money is $1,000, while the distance is seven furlongs, and the winner of the first event will incur a penalty of ten pounds. Sport between the flags is also being catered for liberally by the Bennings management and subscriptions are invited by February 15 for the following event:

Steeplechase for hunters, four-year-olds and upward, qualified under the rules of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, that have been regularly hunted during the season of 1899-1900, and owned and ridden by members of recognized hunts in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. By subscription of $10 each, play or pay. The Washington Jockey Club to add plate of the value of $100 and a purse of the value of $250, of which $100, the subscription money and the plate to the winner. The second horse to receive $100 and the third $50 of the purse. Four-year-olds to carry 148 pounds, five-year-olds, 167 pounds, six-year-olds and over, 176 pounds. Penalties and allowances. About three miles over the steeplechase course, which will be altered to better suit the character of the race.

Dan Honig thinks he has an equine marvel in Theory. Not that the filly is a world-beater, though at that she is a useful sort of a performer, but in the matter of toughness. When the Tanforan season ended a little over a week ago, Dan put his horses on a train to ship them back to Oakland. All the horses got aboard in good shape except Theory. She fell off the platform and slid under the car. It was dollars to dimes she would break a leg or two before she could be extricated, but the short end won out. In less time than it takes to tell it, Theory rolled out from under the car on the other side. Now the veteran turfman is wondering how it was done, as he had never seen anything like it. But he solemnly avers it actually happened. This isn't the only bit of luck that has come to the St. Louisian. A few days ago Assignee, whom he thought would never train, got out of his stable and ran away through all the surrounding country. Dan expected to find him in a state of collapse, but, on the contrary, he got around so rapidly and so soundly on his legs that it is now thought he will stand training.

Mr. D. R. Harness, owner of the peerless Imp, writes Mr. Wm. Fields, proprietor of Fields Place, the home of Wagner, near Lexington that Imp never looked better than she does now. It is bigger than ever before and rugged and playful as a kitten. She weighed 1,065 lbs. on the ninth of this month, and is as sound as the day she was foaled. Fondling, the dam of Imp, is heavy in foal to Wagner (sire of Imp), and due March 1.—Thoroughbred Record.

The Texas horse Mint Sauce opened up the trainers' eyes at the Fair Grounds Sunday morning. The general impression was that he was a sprinter pure and simple. He dispelled this illusion by stepping a mile and an eighth in 1:53, the first mile in 1:40. The work was in the nature of a "prep," and also to give Hugh Kane a line on his chances in the Merchants' Handicap, which will be run Saturday. A bay colt by Prince of Monaco-Patiola, is the first foal of the season at W. S. Barnes' Melbourne Stud. This is a royally bred youngster on both sides of the house, his dam being bred very much like the mighty Hanover. She is by Virgil, Hanover's grandsire, and her third dam is a full sister to Ella D., the granddam of Hanover.

Mr. J. B. Haggins' stallion, Candlemas, sire of Dr. Catlett, Martimas, Carnere, MacLeod of Dare and many other good racers is dead. He was foaled in 1883 and was by Hermit-Fuzee, by Marsyas and consequently a full brother to the Derby winner St. Blaise. He was a fairly good race horse in England and a valuable and successful sire in this country.

J. J. McCafferty will again race his string at Memphis this spring, and will go from there to Newport. Clawson, who is under contract to the stable, will accompany him.

ST. LOUIS' HOPES.

Last Monday's St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: "The entries to the St. Louis stakes, as published yesterday, are, on the whole, rather satisfactory. It is certainly a pleasing feature to see in the lists of owners the names of men who can always be relied upon to come to the races with at least a few good horses. Racing in the west is not at its best at present, the eastern competition having drawn all the highest class horses toward that section. There is practically continuous racing at New York from April to November, and the purses are so much higher than those offered in the west the good horses naturally congregate there, and the west must, perforce, take what is left. Of the horses that remain in the west St. Louis should and will get the pick. The Chicago meetings do not offer as extensive or valuable a list of stakes, and, as St. Louis will lead in the volume of money offered, it will get the cream of the racing talent. The experiment of giving a series of $1,000 stakes, to run through the season after the regular list has been run off, should prove a successful one. Heretofore the stake list was practically exhausted with the running of the Independence Handicap on July 4, the only remaining fixtures being three for two-year-olds at longer distances than were advisable in the spring. As a result, all the old horses with class pretensions were shipped to Chicago after July 4 and raced there the balance of the season, allowing the St. Louis meeting to sag and lose interest and importance. The new stakes will have a tendency to keep these horses here, and it is entirely within the range of probability that the overnight events of late July and August will fill as well as will those of June. Last year's early racing was entirely satisfactory to every one. There was a very desirable class of horses on hand, and they were started frequently. After the Independence Handicap, however, these were shipped away, and only a collection of cheap players were left behind to struggle along for the overnight purses. Relief from such a condition at the coming meeting seems assured. It would be well, however, for those in charge of the matter to exercise considerable discretion in the awarding of stable room, applications for which will soon be coming in. Every effort should be made to exclude the 'four-year old maidens' and 'non-winners since October 1, 1899,' and such like."

St. Louis will no doubt have as it deserves to have a prosperous and successful meeting next summer, with horses in plenty and good racing in daily evidence. But that it can outdraw Chicago for a moment with horsemen or stand any sort of comparison in respect to value of stakes and purses offered is an amusing suggestion. The stakes now offered by the Chicago and Harlem Jockey Clubs are not a "patchin" to those they will announce as soon as it is known whether or not the Washington Park Club will give a meeting. St. Louis is all right in its way but its way is much smaller than Chicago.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

A month ago trainer Murry advised owner Purser to have Perseus shot, on the ground that his days of usefulness were past. Purser did not think so and ordered that the old horse be trained, with the result that he won at the first time of asking.

Acushla did not eat up much of Bob Tucker's oats. Directly after she won "Tuck" turned her loose. He disposed of her to W. P. Maxwell, of starting gate fame. It is hoped that Mr. Maxwell will be as lucky with her as Tucker was.

RACING FORM'S SELECTIONS.

DAILY RACING FORM has no private information. It seeks none. Its calculations over the horses as they are grouped daily at various racetracks are purely those of general performance and ability as shown by the records and the application and knowledge of its editors and the reports of its correspondents. These calculations are printed daily. Nothing is hidden. All that the staff of the paper knows is put into type. If the selections made nightly are sought by persons outside the daily delivery lines of the paper they will be sent by Western Union night rate messages (collect) at $5 per track per week. Such service is not solicited, but if it is considered valuable, will be performed.

Went to post at 2:35. At post 5 minutes. Start good. It was a driving finish. Uhler would have won in another stride. He was running over Can I See 'Em at the end. Mitchell's ride on Uhler was bad. He never made a move until the stretch was reached. McCleary and Village Pride quit in the final furlong. Little Reggie was raced into submission the first three e-quarters.

Went to post at 3:10. At post 6 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second handily. Van Brunt came away in the stretch. The weight told on Cheesmite when the pinch came. The race was between the pair all the way. Al Reeves would have been dangerous with a good rider up.
